Dr. Day

Week 9: October 23rd – October 27th, 2017

Exam this week and Cell structure

You will have your exam covering the 4 classes of biological molecules, transcription and translation on Tuesday. On Wednesday you will get back your exams and we will go over the exam correction procedure. You will also find out what your current grade is in Science. On Thursday we will begin our unit on cell structure.

Homework:

- * Make sure to do your test corrections this week and hand them in by next Monday
- * Wednesday's homework: Watch the video about cell membranes and take notes in your science notebook
